Messages from spirit come from different sources and are delivered in many disguises all are intended to help us in one way or another. There are no exceptions, we are all being guided through life by divine energy and supported by those in spirit who love us. Awareness and susceptibility is all we need to possess to receive and understand our own messages. This is not only empowering but it also enriches our life. Marcus's intention is to teach you how to recognise messages, signs and synchronicities as they appear in your own life and to understand their meaning, timing and personal relevance. On this workshop he will teach you some simple techniques to receive, interpret and convey messages. With help to hand you will practice these methods with other participants thoroughly. Through feed back and discussion you will realise how messages are different for all of us. The varied disguises in which they are delivered and the reasons they are sent, thus enabling you to understand how spirit contact works for you. With this knowledge and some practice you will become susceptible to even the most subtle forms of contact, enabling spiritual guidance to become a part of your everyday life. This will be a full on workshop specifically designed to heighten awareness and increase your susceptibility. Please note, we will be starting a new Spiritual Healing Course around April time. Lynden Hollman tutors this course and it's run under the banner of The Corinthian Healers. If you are interested in becoming a certificated healer, please contact us and we'll put your name on the list, and get back to you when the dates are arranged.
